ERICKSON APPLE ROOT GRAFTS—10 for $2.50

Hibernal—September and October. A Russian variety, which is proving very valuable on account of its ability to withstand the rigorous climatic conditions of these regions. This variety represents what is probably the hardiest type of the Russian race of apples. Fruit large; surface greenish-yellow with a dull bronz mixed red on sunny side, with a few dull crimson splashes. Flesh yellowish, crisp, tender, juicy; quality above medium. First hardiness. On Baccata.

5 to 6 feet, 75c; 4 to 5 feet, 65c; 10 for $5.50

Charlamoff—Season, August. A handsome large fruit; almost covered with stripes and splashes of red; good eating quality. First hardiness. On Baccata.

4 to 5 feet, 65c.

Wealthy—This was originated by Peter M. Gideon of Minnesota. Fruit above medium to large; color underlaid with pale yellow, blushed and marked with stripes and splashes of red, deepening in highly colored specimens to brilliant red; very attractive. Flesh, whitish, tinged with red when thoroughly ripe. Moderately fine, crisp, tender and juicy, agreeably sub-acid; good to extra good. Second hardiness. On Baccata.

Everbearing Strawberry Plants

Progressive—P—Strong, perfect blossoms; good plant maker, and fruits continuously. Extra good about fruiting heavily on new runners the first summer and fall. Berry rather long shaped; fine, dark color and good quality. Its extra firmness makes it a good shipper. This variety has well been called the Dunlap of the Everbearers. It is certainly a good variety and worthy of a place in every garden because of its long bearing season and reputation as a producer of exceptional fruit.
